Cruelty's Sad Facts

"The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way its animals are treated." Mahatma Gandhi

Meet Brandy a sweet, energetic puppy and a sad victim of animal cruelty and neglect. Brandy was found running loose – and thankfully so. She had a seven inch chain-type collar embedded around her twelve inch neck. At only five months old, Brandy has endured more suffering than any animal should.

Brandy

The ending is happy for Brandy. She was adopted into a new home, a loving home. Hers is just one case among hundreds reported to HSHV's cruelty department each year. Most people will agree her story is sad and unfortunate. But animal cruelty contains a much more grim message...

- 88% of pet-owning families with substantiated child abuse and neglect also had abused animals.
- 71% of women seeking shelter at a safe house reported their partner had threatened, hurt or killed their companion animals.
- Violent offenders in prison were significantly more likely than non-violent offenders to have committed acts of animal cruelty as children.

Whether these statistics and facts are shocking to you or not, they certainly illustrate the link between animal cruelty and human violence.

Education and awareness are two powerful tools to prevent cruelty and neglect. Here are some things we can all do:

- Take animal abuse seriously.
- Support strong anti-cruelty laws.
- Develop community anti-violence coalitions.
- Be aware and report possible animal cruelty and neglect.
- Promote empathy and humane education for our children.
- Support HSHV – adopt a rescued animal from our shelter, volunteer your time and talents, or donate. Visit www.hshv.org for more information.

Let's make our community great and humane. We must stop cruelty and neglect against society's most vulnerable – the voiceless animals.

To report an injured or abused animal, please call HSHV 662-5585 ext. 112.

Neighborhood Watch for Animals

Show you care about your neighbors and their families. Enhance your existing Neighborhood Watch program to include pets and wildlife.

Know Your Neighborhood's Pets – Pay attention to the dogs and cats that live around you. Encourage your neighbors to keep collars and identification on their pets.

Pay Attention to Abuse, Neglect & Abandonment – Pets with no food, water or shelter; pets left behind when owners move; are all signs of abuse. Don't turn your back. Report these situations – call HSHV 662-5585 ext. 112.

Watch for Pets in Parked Cars – When temperatures are extremely hot, animals are not safe in parked cars. If you see a pet in distress call the police and HSHV 662-5585 ext. 112 immediately.

Stranger Danger – If pets start disappearing or are "lost", watch for signs of a pet thief. Encourage pet owners to keep pets inside or supervised when outside.

Be on the Lookout for Illegal Animal Fighting – Dog fighting is an illegal and brutal activity. Suspicious signs are visible injuries or scars on dogs, high turnover of dogs, or dead dogs in the trash. Call HSHV 662-5585 ext. 112 if you suspect anything.

Be Aware of Domestic Violence Situations – Animal abuse and domestic abuse all too often go hand-in-hand. If you suspect anyone is in danger – make a call to the police or HSHV – even if anonymously.

Help The Elderly – Pets are great companions for senior citizens. Be aware of changes in the care of a senior neighbor's pet. It may be a sign the person needs assistance.

Look Out for Your Wild Neighbors – Birds, squirrels and other wild animals can also be victims of cruelty. If a child or adult torments or deliberately injures any animal, take it seriously and report it to HSHV 662-5585 ext. 112.

Start Early – Encourage humane education in your schools. Teach your children kindness and compassion. Suggested reading – Above All, Be Kind: Raising a Humane Child by Zoe Weil.

Show You Care – Spay or Neuter Your Companion Animals

Pet overpopulation continues to be a very serious problem. For every person born in the United States, there are 15 dogs and 45 cats born. As a result, each year millions of cats and dogs are needlessly euthanized because there are not enough homes for them. The only answer to this crisis is to ensure that all pets are spayed and neutered. That is why all animals that leave HSHV only do so after they've been spayed or neutered.

In addition, spaying and neutering your animal has other benefits. The surgery prevents common causes of infections, cancers, and reduces or eliminates many behavioral problems; including spraying, aggression, and roaming far from home.

The HSHV Clinic routinely offers low cost sterilization and runs regular "Spay Days" at deeply reduced prices. We want to make sure cost never prevents a pet from being sterilized. Check our web site, www.hshv.org, or call 734-662-4365 to find out more.

Identity Confusion – A frequently asked question

Is HSHV affiliated with Michigan Humane Society or the Humane Society of the United States?

No. This is a very common misconception. But humane societies are completely independent nonprofit corporations. The Humane Society of Huron Valley serves the Washtenaw County community. Michigan Humane Society serves Wayne and Oakland County only. It is not a statewide organization and they do not provide funding to any other humane society. In fact there are almost 30 different humane societies in Michigan serving their local areas—all of which have no formal ties to one another. The Humane Society of the United States offers education, training, and advocacy on animal welfare issues, but is not an umbrella organization.

Special Help for a Lucky Girl

Hi, I'm Ginger. I think I'm the luckiest girl in the world. I spent my first three years with a great family that loved and played with me. Sadly, they had to move and couldn't take me along. We were all heartbroken. That is how I ended up at HSHV. There the staff and volunteers did all they could to make me comfortable. But, I have hip dysplasia and a bad knee injury. The cold and hard kennel was just too tough on my body, even with a great Kuranda bed. That is when my first lucky break came along in J.D. Marhevko and Mark Druckmiller – my foster parents. They gave me a great home while HSHV kept looking for a permanent home. My foster parents did even more. They are helping, A LOT, to pay for my much needed surgery - lucky break number two. They are GREAT people. After months of waiting and hoping, Cindy Morphew found me. She is my new mom. Lucky break number three – now I'm on my way to many, many more happy and loving years.

Thanks to everyone at HSHV, J.D. & Mark … their patience and dedication saved my life.

Wanted – Foster Parent Volunteers

With "kitten season" in full swing, HSHV needs foster homes. Many unwanted litters of kittens end up at the shelter. Usually too young for adoption, these babies need a temporary home in which to grow and socialize.

HSHV Board of Directors

Let's extend a warm welcome to three new members of our Board of Directors:

- Peter Fink – The Galt Company
- Diana Kern – McKinley Associates, Inc.
- Jane Lumm – community volunteer

A message from our featured board member, Nancy Culotta…

"Nancy and her dog, Monkie, a 10-year old Chow/Lab HSHV alumni."

I volunteer at HSHV because I believe in its two fold mission — find homes for every adoptable animal; and prevent animal cruelty. I have always been an animal lover and used to bring home every abandoned or injured creature I came across when I was young. My parents and I would pack them up and take them to the Montgomery County Humane Society (Maryland) where they were all healed and adopted out. It was nice to know the animals I immediately bonded with were being taken care of and would have good lives.

I have a very special place in my heart for the HSHV staff who work tirelessly in fulfilling our mission. It takes a very special person to do what they do and see what they see day-in and day-out. I volunteer to lighten their burden in any way I can.

I have watched HSHV go through many changes recently. I am proud to be part of the organization which has made it through the changes and is focused on improving to better serve the animals and the community. I can't think of an organization today I would rather be associated with. I am blessed to be a part of their team.

All members of our board are volunteers. We appreciate all they do in great service to the organization.
